8	Criteria on providing the broadband DSL-VPN service

1. Broadband Internet Service that is not guaranteed the speed of connection, the speed of the receipt and transmission of data between the computers that connect with the network of TOT, is not the speed of receiving/sending data. The actual speed sometime may be lower than the top speed in interfacing that is applied for the service. In this respect, because the high-speed Internet service is a shared bandwidth that the circuits are shared according to the specified ratios.
2. Speed in connecting the network may have resulted from several factors, e.g. condition and distance of the internal telephone cords of the Service User, condition of the computer, and speed in interfacing the Internet and congestion of the Internet network, including the server and router of the Web site visited and several other factors.
